

CAMPAIGN SECRETARY TO TESTIFY

Process Servers Find Him After a Search of Twenty-one Days

COURT ROOM IS PACKED

Crowds Flocking There Expecting to Hear Sensational Testimony—Sulzer Wanted Morganthau to "Be Easy With Him."

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Duncan W. Peck, state superintendent of public works, testified at Governor Sulzer's impeachment trial this afternoon that the governor had asked him to deny under oath that he had made a $500 contribution to the Sulzer campaign fund.

Governor Sulzer asked Henry L. Morganthau, ambassador to Turkey, to "be easy with him" in case he was called to the witness stand at the governor's impeachment trial. Mr. Morganthau, who contributed $1,000 to the governor's campaign fund, so testified when recalled as a witness today. He added that the governor had asked him to treat the relations between them as a "personal affair."

Peck said he had made the contribution shortly after the governor's election and that last July he had shown Mr. Sulzer in the executive chamber, copy of the letter from the Frawie committee asking him to testify. "I said to the governor," said Mr. Peck, "what shall I do about it? He said 'Do as I am going to do, den, it.' I said, 'but I shall be placed under oath.' He said 'forget it.' After this declaration there was a hurried conference of Governor Sulzer's counsel, Harvey D. Hinman, took up the cross-examination. Mr. Peck said there were several persons about when he gave the $500 contribution to Sulzer. He said he had given the conversation which took place in the executive chamber, "word for word."

"I could not be mistaken about a single word," he said. There was no more questioning. At the outset of his examination, Peck told of handing Sulzer the $500 at a Democratic reform meeting in Troy, N. Y. "I said to him there were no strings on it and that he needn't feel under obligation to reappoint me," he testified. The witness said that since then he had a "confidential conversation" with the governor. "Must I give it?" he asked. "Yes," ruled the presiding judge. The witness then said that he had the conversation with the governor in July in the executive chamber.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Crowd, flocked to the capitol today to listen to the testimony of two witnesses long sought by the board of managers in the impeachment trial of Governor Sulzer: Louis A. Sarecky and Frederick L. Colwell. Sarecky, who formerly was the governor's campaign secretary was served with a subpoena yesterday and promised that he would be on hand this morning. In his capacity as secretary he handled much of the money contributed for the governor's campaign. Process servers found Sarecky here after a long search. During the twenty-one days they sought him, he called several times at the executive mansion. Colwell, whose home is in Yonkers, has been termed the governor's "dummy" in his Wall Street deals. PUZZLED OVER THE ACTIONS OF UNIVERSITY GIRL

Columbus, Sept. 26.—That Isabel Arthur, the 21-year-old State University student arrested last night for investigation in connection with the passing of more than half a dozen bank checks upon dry goods stores, rooming houses and other places since her arrival in Columbus a fortnight ago is a mental defective who escaped from the care of Dr. John C. Darby of Cleveland, and her mother, who lives at Chagrin Falls, was the conclusion reached by the police this afternoon.

Miss Arthur probably will be placed in Grant hospital later today, as the police learned her physical strength is giving way and she needs constant attention. The girl fainted and had to be carried from the office of Chief Carter to the city prison hospital today, when Chief Carter, Dean Caroline Beyfogle of Oxley Hall at the State University and Dr. Obetz, police surgeon, were questioning her. The police this afternoon received word from Dr. Darby that he had attended Miss Arthur for a nervous trouble. He said, however, that she had never been in any sanatorium. She has two sisters teaching school in Cleveland and is herself a graduate of the Cleveland High school and Cleveland Normal school.

Columbus, O., Sept. 26.—Police officials are puzzled over the case of Isabel Arthur, aged 21, of Cleveland, student at the State University, who is being held under investigation at the police station in connection with the passing of several checks upon Columbus firms, which have come back from the banks upon which they were drawn marked "no funds."

Last night the girl wanted to send a telegram to Dr. John C. Darby, 187 Pasadena avenue, Cleveland, asking "why this mixup about the money." Why are there no funds for me in the First National Bank? She begged officers not to let her family know anything about the matter. Miss Arthur formerly was a teacher at Chagrin Falls, near Cleveland, according to the police.

Miss Caroline Beyfogle, dean of the women at the State University, went to the police headquarters today to personally investigate the case of the girl. She said Miss Arthur registered at the university about a week ago and it has been noticed about the university that she acted rather strangely and seemed to be of a very nervous disposition.

The police investigation Friday morning found trace of at least twelve checks the girl had passed. Miss Beyfogle spent some time questioning the girl in private in Chief Carter's office today.

Richardson was charged with assaulting Ree Goff, 11 years old as she was on her way to a school in the country near here Tuesday morning. The negro's body was still hanging in the public square early today.

SACRIFICED LIFE TO SAVE CHILDREN

New York, Sept. 26.—Edward Scully, a superintendent in the street cleaning department, sacrificed his life today to save a crowd of school children from a runaway horse. The horse, attached to a truck, was headed toward a corner in Brooklyn, occupied by two public schools. On the sidewalk were some 300 children. Scully dashed out of his office, seized the animal's bridle and turned it into the curb. Although he had checked the runaway he was carried under the horse's hoofs and instantly killed.

OHIO STATE OFFICIALS AT MADISON

Will Study How Wisconsin Administers Civil Service Law

OVER 10,000 EMPLOYEES

In State and County Offices in Ohio Will Be Placed Under Civil Service After January 1st.

Associated Press Telegram
Columbus, Sept. 26.—Wisconsin once again is to be the school for Ohio state officials.

Members of the state civil service commission and their secretary will go to Madison Tuesday and spend two days there studying how the civil service law is administered.

The task of the Ohio civil service commission will be far greater, however, than that of Wisconsin. Chas. H. Bryson, member of the commission, said today more than 10,000 state and county employees will be under civil service after January 1, in this state, whereas less than 2,500 hold their jobs under civil service in Wisconsin.

The state commission soon after its return from Madison will start compiling lists for examinations which will be given all employees holding office January 1. This will be non-competitive, and those not holding office will not be allowed to participate. If vacancies are created by failure of any to pass the examinations, additional examinations will be given at which others will be admitted.

All state and county employees will be subject to civil service rules except two appointees of each elective officer or board. County jobs will be open only to residents of the county where they are examined. The state civil service commission has not decided definitely whether it will create county examiners or examining boards to assist it.

CONFEREES MAY FINISH REPORT THIS EVENING

Associated Press Telegram
Washington, Sept. 26.—The senate tariff conferees proposed today to drop the cotton future tax from the tariff bill. The house conferees, however, refused to agree to that action on the ground that the house should have the opportunity to vote upon whether the entire provision should be dropped or a compromise provision accepted.

Another day's work on disputed points between the senate and house on the Underwood-Simmons bill, brought the conferees together today with the hope that a report might be finished for presentation to the house tomorrow. The parliamentary rules which require such reporting to lay over a day puts the finishing touches of the tariff bill over to next week.

Disagreements on the time when free raw wool and the new woolen rates shall become effective and differences over the rates on cotton yarns and cloth, lead and zinc ores were up today for settlement. It was definitely understood that a complete disagreement would be reported on the much discussed futures tax.

Making allowances for the technical maneuvers which always attend the last moments of a tariff bill, leaders thought the new law might be signed by President Wilson about the middle of next week.

CHECK WORKER GETS MONEY ON WORTHLESS PAPER

The police department is looking for a stranger who worked bogus checks on three local merchants during the past few days. Erman's drug store, the Scotch Woolen Mills company and Ed Doe's clothing store each lost a small sum by the operations of the check worker. An effort was made by the same individual to get money on a check at the Rutledge store in South Park Place but he was turned down. The officers have a good description of the man and an effort is being made to locate him.

Prince Joseph Rospigliosi, who died Monday at Stresa, did not marry in a religious ceremony Mrs. F. H. Parkhurst of Bangor, Me. (formerly Miss Marie Jennings, Reid of New Orleans). This statement is made by his brother, Prince Camillo Rospigliosi, ex-commander of the Papal Guard, who was at Prince Joseph's bedside till his death.

Prince Camillo issued an emphatic denial of the published reports, saying that, apart from other considerations, such a marriage was impossible, as the annulment of Mrs. Parkhurst's marriage to Colonel Parkhurst had never been admitted by the church.

MASKED BANDITS ROB TRAIN NEAR BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

Associated Press Telegram
Cottondale, Ala., Sept. 26.—Two mere boys were the bandits who early this morning rifled the mail car and dynamited the express safe on Alabama Great Southern train No. 7, near this place and escaped with booty variously estimated at from a few hundred to $50,000.

In the search for the bandits this morning Deputy Sheriff James Bonner of Birmingham was shot and killed by a member of another posse from Montgomery who mistook Bonner for one of the robbers. After stopping the train at Bibbville siding at 12:30 a. m. by means of a block danger signal, one of the bandits forced the engineer, fireman, express messenger and six mail clerks to leave their engine and cars and lined them up at the side of the track. The robbers then compelled one of the trainmen to detach the engine, express and mail cars, whereupon the bandits boarded the locomotive and with one robber at the throttle drove the front part of the train several miles down the track, where the express safe was blown to bits with dynamite and the registered mail pouches were rifled.

The robbers then threw open the throttle of the engine, leaped to the ground and escaped with their booty into the swamps, while the runaway engine and express and mail cars dashed on down the track through several towns, until the steam in the engine was exhausted and the runaway train came to a stop at Englewood, Ala.

Associated Press Telegram
Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 26.—No trace of the two masked men who held up and robbed Alabama Southern train No. 7, of the Queen & Crescent system at Bibbville siding shortly after midnight had been obtained early today by the various posses searching for the robbers.

Sheriff McAdory with six deputies, Chief of Police Bodeker and several private detectives from Birmingham, as well as a posse of deputies from Montgomery and Tuscaloosa, and Bibb counties, are hunting for the bandits in northern Bibb and Tuscaloosa counties.

A special train from Montgomery carried bloodhounds to Tuscaloosa early today and the posse from Birmingham has several bloodhounds scouring the country surrounding the scene of the robbery.

Not even an approximate estimate of the amount of booty obtained by the robbers could be obtained here this morning but it is reported that they took a pouch of registered mail and small amounts of money from the mail and express cars.

Deputy Sheriff James Bonner, of Birmingham, while searching for the bandits, was shot and killed at 7 o'clock this morning near Cottondale by a Montgomery deputy sheriff, who mistook Bonner for one of the train robbers.

Reports of the robbery received here early today have contained only meager details of the holdup, which occurred in a sparsely settled mining section.

PRICE OF KRAUT WILL BE HIGHER

Associated Press Telegram
Fremont, O., Sept. 26.—Add to the high cost of living an increase in the price of sauer kraut. Today kraut cabbage reached the unprecedented price of $17 a ton. Kraut makers in this city, which is the center of the American kraut industry, had hard work getting material at that price and several suits have been instituted against growers who contracted to sell their cabbage at a low figure and now refuse to deliver at the contract price.

New York, Sept. 26.—A police captain, sergeant and a patrolman were summarily suspended shortly after midnight this morning by Police Commissioner Waldo when he discovered, he says, that gambling houses were running wide open in Chinatown, part of the district under their jurisdiction. Commissioner Waldo's action followed a personal investigation in Chinatown late last night. Those suspended are Captain Frank J. Tierney, Sergeant Owen J. Keegan and Patrolman Louis Gray.

DIDN'T KNOW THAT THE GUN WAS LOADED.

Associated Press Telegram
Dayton, Sept. 26.—"Pretend that you caught me cheating," suggested Byron Collins, aged 18, to Russell French, aged 17, last night at the Collins home, six miles north of Dayton, when the boys engaged in a "wild west" card game. Russell had a 22-caliber revolver, which he "didn't know was loaded." The scheme of entertainment was carried out, but Coroner J. W. McKenny was called about 11 o'clock to investigate the death of Collins, who received a bullet in his heart. The boys were neighbors and inseparable companions.

East Liverpool, O., Sept. 26.—Sylvester Woods, aged 15, son of Fire Captain Patrick Woods, while hunting a burglar in his home last night, accidentally shot himself in the abdomen with a revolver. Failing to locate the night prowler the boy placed the weapon under his shirt. The trigger caught on his clothing and was released. His condition is critical.

New Haven, Sept. 26.—Charles J. Dougherty, engineer of the second section of the Springfield express on the New Haven railroad, which ran into the first section at Stamford last June, causing six deaths, died of heart failure at his home here early today.

He had grieved constantly over the wreck and this is believed to have caused his death. He was 31 years old and leaves a wife and two small children.

Ever since the accident Dougherty had suffered with nervousness, his relatives say, and many times had told them there was constantly recurring to him the picture of a wreck victim, a woman whose gray hair was matted with blood. He was so averse to being alone that he frequently kept his young sons, four and five years old respectively, up until midnight for company. He had been working in this city since the wreck as a stationary engineer for a local company, but had been compelled to lay off for days at times, because of his nervous condition.

Mr. Simpson explained that the present plans were adopted with a view of future extensions. Without interfering with the present improvement, the Pennsylvania can be it likes, raise its tracks and go over the B & O. If this improvement is made, the railroad grade will change at a point between Fourth and Fifth Streets and gradually rise to the east until the B & O tracks are cleared 25 feet.

The Pennsylvania station will be left at its present location for the present. Steps will lead from the station platform to the train sheds above. A passageway will be constructed under the tracks to reach the east-bound passenger tracks, a great improvement over the present facilities. The new Pennsylvania freight terminal has already been detailed in these columns. A greater part of the property between Fifth and Sixth, Wilson and Walnut Streets will be acquired for the team and unloading tracks and the new freight station which will be greatly enlarged. The capacity of this terminal will be greatly increased over the present facility.

The Shawnee tracks Mr. Simpson explained, will be kept close to the east and west bound tracks, to a point west of Sixth Street, where will swing to the southwest and strike the present right of way. This will make it necessary to construct a much shorter passageway under the tracks than would have been the case if this track was left in its present position.

Mr. Simpson detailed the percentage of grade on all the streets under the tracks. He explained that the bridges overhead would all be water tight, that there would be no danger of surface water draining through or objectionable grease or cinders from passing trains or locomotives.

All the streets a 10 to 20 feet in width except First Street which will be 14 feet and Second Street which will be 24 feet in width. The width of Third and Fourth Streets, including the sidewalks, will be 40 feet, Fifth and Sixth Streets will be 50 feet.

In answer to questions asked, those present Mr. Simpson stated that the work would require about two years time, that the cost would be less than it has been here, so it would be possible to construct temporary tracks around the work that approximately 10 per cent of about $100,000 would be a safe estimate for labor and material and that the grade changes would be so slight that the property damages would amount to little or nothing. He was asked if the estimate cost $240,000 took into consideration any property damage. Mr. Simpson explained that this estimate provided the cost of acquiring property by purchase when will be necessary to make the improvement. Most of the property which would have been damaged by the improvement will be purchased thus doing away with the greater part of this damage. He also called attention to the fact that whenever there was any damage to adjacent property that the railroad must pay 67 per cent and the city 33 per cent. He also stated that most of the property bounded by Fifth, Sixth Walnut and Wilson Streets would be acquired by purchase.

W. H. Anderson in a brief address declared that Newark should not look upon the proposed improvement as a benefit to the South End. He made a strong plea for the elimination of these imaginary boundaries in the city. He urged that this matter be looked upon as an improvement which will benefit the whole city. He urged the abandonment of sectional considerations in any public improvement.

City Solicitor Jones explained the difference in the final estimate of cost and that first announced by the railroads.

He said: "We were told with the matter was first costs listed in the morning but could cost $1,000,000. The railroads' cost a cut at all, but the city will not share in the expense. The reduction of the city's share comes from a careful elimination of certain parts of the improvement which will be in the nature of an improvement to the railroads. For instance, the Pennsylvania is planning to produce a large number of unloading tracks. The city shares only in the work of re-rodging as near as possible the present facility."

"I have heard it said that this work ought not to be done because it did not include similar projects in East, North and West Newark. The thing for the residents of these sections to do, is to help get this project started and when it is completed and the city at large sees the benefits derived from it, they will be glad enough to join hands and vote for the elimination of all grade crossings."

Mr. Randolph, secretary of the subway executive committee made a brief talk in which he stated that the time was fast approaching when grade crossings would not be tolerated in any part of the country and that it was an opportune time for Newark to get this improvement and take a giant stride forward.

Mr. Bausher noted the appointment of a finance committee, President Miller appointed Messrs. Charles Diebold, Harry Miller and David Taylor on this committee.

Frank A. Bolton, member of the executive committee, moved the appointment of a committee of six to look after the business men of the city with a view of getting the endorsement of the improvement. The president appointed Messrs. Otto Vogelbein, Lewis Keels, Clem Cole, George Hermann, Dennis Linehan and W. H. Anderson.

This committee will circulate petitions among the business men and voters, getting their signature to an agreement to support and approve the project.

THATCHER TAKES OATH AS ATTORNEY

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Sept. 23.—The last chapter in the long fight which has been waged in the disbarment proceedings against Charles A. Thatcher of Toledo was written this morning when Thatcher appeared in Supreme court and was reinstated by being sworn in as an attorney. The oath was administered today by Judge Shauk, who happens to be the only member of the court which sat in the original hearing of the case. Judge Shauk voted with the judges who brought about Thatcher's disbarment which continued for nearly four years.

The Supreme court at its session last Tuesday reversed the action of the court as formerly constituted and ordered Thatcher reinstated. Thatcher had been disbarred for criminalizing the Supreme court and Lucas county judges. His criticisms were aimed chiefly at Judge Shauk. While swearing Thatcher in, Judge Shauk declined in any way to recognize him.

Mr. Thatcher gave a delicate opinion not strike him or his guard.

to Judge Shauk while repeating the oath by giving emphasis to the word "due" in the part of the pledge "I maintain the respect due to courts of justice and judicial officers." He looked Judge Shauk straight in the eye as he repeated it and neither man blinked an eyelid. Mr. Thatcher always maintained he gave courts all the respect due them.

IS CHILD CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK

Look, Mother! If Tongue is Coated and Stomach Sour, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally. Breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Lavish Admiration Spoiling Women

By MICHAEL DE BERNOFF, Russian Lecturer and Journalist

THE American women are beautiful. I CANNOT SAY THE SAME ABOUT THE MEN. Yet their eyes are kind and good. It is not true, as I had heard, that they are selfish, because I have found everybody courteous.

Among American women there is a much larger variety of types than in most European countries. They are fleshier than the English, not too tall and thin. This I attribute to the climate, the food and the prosperity of the country.

The American woman is very much like the Russian, only YOUR MEN ARE SPOILING THEM BY ADMIRING THEM TOO MUCH. In Russia it is the reverse. The woman over there has to work too much.

The Joy Of Change

"DON'T you like Tennyson's poetry?" asked the Forward-looking Woman.

"Yes," responded the Fireside Woman. "I think 'Maud' is just lovely."

"I wasn't thinking of 'Maud,'" observed the Forward-looking Woman. "These are the lines that have been running in my head all day: 'Not in vain the distance beckons, forward, forward let us range. Let the great world spin forever, down the ringing grooves of change.'"

I think that is stirring, don't you?"

"Y-y-es," responded the Fireside Woman somewhat doubtfully. "I'm not so terribly fond of change though."

"No, I don't believe you are," laughed the Forward-looking Woman. "I believe you would like to be rooted right in one spot, physically, mentally and spiritually, all your life. I think you would just delight, for instance, in doing nothing but housekeeping all your days."

"Well, housekeeping is necessary," returned the other with spirit.

"To be sure it is," responded the Forward-looking Woman blithely. "And I believe in doing it well. The first principle of my creed is a well-sept, beautiful, happy home. But I don't believe in getting that result by the laborious methods of our grandmothers. You do. That's the difference between us. I like to see the 'distant beckon.' I want to find what is there. I like to think of the great world spinning down the ringing grooves of change. I enjoy speculating on what those changes may be. And I want to see them and enjoy the benefits that come from them."

"Maybe they won't be benefits."

"Oh yes, they will. We're progressing. You can't get away from that. And progress is betterment. More and more minds are upon the problem of making life better, and good is going to come out of it. It is a housekeeping. Think how much less drudgery there is in keeping house today than there was fifty years ago. And it will grow still better and better. And that means woman will have more time to develop herself, to sit herself above the monotonous, mind-dwarfing tasks of cooking and dish-washing and scrubbing and such things. The house will be as clean, as beautiful, and it will serve the family as much as it ever did, in material ways. Yet the woman who runs it can be a very different individual from what she used to be, if she wants to. She can be in touch with all that the world is doing. She can be mentally a companion and help for her husband. She can 'forward range' with the army ever pushing on to better things. She can touch the stars and tread the airy realms of space; and that is better than standing over the cook-stove or wash-tub, isn't it?"

"I'll let the others do the rope-walking act, and I'll stay home," said the Fireside Woman.

"But you won't refrain from enjoying the good things the others have worked to get," responded the Forward-looking Woman just a trifle sarcastically. "Seems to me I should not want to complacently take the suit others had climbed and picked. I would want to get my own, or at least, be one of the workers."

"But you are energetic and altruistic," said the Fireside Woman.

"And you are parasitic and egoistic," responded the Forward-looking woman. "Every one to his taste."

Uncle Walt's Philosophy

Popular Rule.

The people rule in Mexico, and there our eyes are bent to see the country thrive and grow beneath good government. When old man Diaz had the helm, we called him Satan's tool; "there'll be no rest in that realm until the people rule!" And now the people have full sway, they exercise their right, they burn down villages by day, and butcher folks by night. They're spreading freedom over the land, that boon for which men yearn; and singly, or in robes and they steal and kill and burn. The people cannot write or read, they know not why they fight; the only know each lawless deed brings them a strange delight. All masterless they go their ways, with musket, sword and dirk, and nevermore, in coming days, will they get down to work. The flag of license they have held too long to let it go, when one uprising has quenched, a veto sticks out why complain? The people rule, we know, that rule is wise. Over Mexico we should not so—her destiny is clear; so say that government by mob is what we're needing here.

Blackheads.

To remove blackheads get a good sulphur ointment and rub this well into the parts affected nightly after washing well with hot, soapy water. Once a week steam the face over a jar of hot water for some minutes and then press out the largest of the blackheads between the finger tips and again rub in ointment. In the diet include fair amounts of salads, stewed fruits and green vegetables and avoid fatty, rich foods, pastry and sweets. Take a tablespoonful of flowers of sulphur nightly and a small glass of effervescent saline each morning.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Sad Story
Of the Little Early Worm.

"Oh, mother," cried the little birds.

"HUMPH!" said daddy as Jack and Evelyn settled down beside him. "I was just dozing off when you two came in and scared the sandman away."

"He's just gone around the corner to wait for us," Evelyn suggested.

"Maybe he has," laughed daddy. "I hope he will leave enough sand to keep you two in bed a little longer than he did this morning. Getting up at daylight does not agree with me every day."

"Well, you know, you said that it was the early bird that caught the worm," Jack reminded, "and Evelyn and I wanted to go fishing with grandpa."

"Ah, so I did say something about an early worm," daddy admitted. "He was a very early riser—got up before daylight; was even known to be out of bed at midnight."

"Indeed, he got up so early that it seemed scarcely worth while for him to go to bed at all."

"He was a nice fat worm and lived in a soft bank by the side of the brook, where he didn't have to work hard to tunnel his way through the ground."

"I want to get up to see the sun rise," the worm would say when any one asked him why he got up so soon.

TRICKS DOCTOR TO SAVE HIM

J. D. Byrne, a San Francisco business man, for a long time President of the California Fig Products Co., heard that a friend, a young physician, was fading under a hard case of Bright's Disease. The doctor becoming thoroughly discouraged, Byrne induced him to consent to use something he would take to him.

Byrne went to the nearest drug store, bought a bottle of Fulton's Renal Compound, soaked the label in water and took it to the patient. He began to mend and Byrne got him another bottle and still another.

When recovery was in sight he was told it was Fulton's Renal Compound. And this is not the first case of this kind. A number of cases have been reported in which the patients were so certain nothing could be done that they too had to be deceived to put them in the way of recovery.

There is no escape whatever from the fact that Bright's Disease is being cured by Fulton's Renal Compound. If you have Bright's Disease you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up. It can be had at F. D. Hall's, Druggist.

Ask for pamphlet on our investigation into the curability of Bright's Disease or write John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco.

ROOSTERS THAT CROW, DOOMED TO MEET DEATH

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Sept. 26.—French noblemen during the reign of terror had nothing no native roosters of Ohio.
Execution day for cocks has been fixed by the state dairy and food department, now the agricultural commission, as a Thursday early in next June, and before then a proclamation will be issued urging the slaughter of every crowing cock, excepting a few prize roosters, for the benefit of next summer's egg crop. Egg fertility the following hatching season will be assured by the growth of young cocks from next spring's hatching.
Cocks mean a spoiling of more than $1,000,000 worth of eggs in Ohio each summer, Commissioner S. E. Strode declared today. Fertile eggs do not keep well in hot weather and fertility is not needed for new broods after June. At least 3,000,000 eggs decay during the summer months alone because they are fertile and begin to hatch from warmth of the weather.
Methodist preachers, dark skinned citizens and other chicken lovers will revel on Thursday, execution day, and the few days following, providing Ohio chicken owners comply with the "bad egg" department of the state government. This day has been set so that farmers may market their birds for Sunday dinner consumption.

CANNING POWDER INJURES FRUIT SAYS MR. STRODE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, O., Sept. 26.—Warning against the use of artificial preservatives in canning fruits at home was issued today by the state dairy and food department. During the canning season many women buy powders guaranteed to keep their product from spoiling. Commissioner S. E. Strode of the agricultural commission declared. These do keep the product from spoiling, but they are harmful to the system when taken with the fruit, he said. Most preservative powders contain salicylic acid.
Don't use rotten fruit. Don't use old rubbers on the can lids. Have jars boiling hot when the fruit is put into them. Heat the fruit itself to the boiling point. Make the can airtight and fill it to the brim. These are a few suggestions given out by the department. Cleanliness is urged as the best feature to insure fruit against spoiling.
Warning is issued against agents who declare canning powders they are selling are used by canning factories. Artificial preservatives are prohibited in canning factories within the state.

First Things

The first meeting of the Washington Monument society was held in the city of Washington eighty years ago today, when the society was organized as a volunteer association to work for the erection in the national capital of the republic of a monument national in character to the founder and first president of the United States. The first suggestion of such a monument was made as early as 1783, when the Continental Congress passed a resolution recommending the erection of a statue of Washington. The scheme was revived after Washington's death, but congress failed to provide for the execution of the work, and it was not until the monument society was organized in 1833 that anything was accomplished. Chief Justice John Marshall was elected as first president of the society, and on his death was succeeded by James Madison. The society collected $87,000 in dollar contributions, and the cornerstone of the monument was laid in 1848. The senate refused to concur in a $200,000 appropriation, and all work stopped until 1876, when congress appropriated one million dollars. The monument, dedicated in 1885, is one of the most magnificent memorials of its kind in the world and cost in all $1,500,000.

REDUCING COST OF FERTILIZERS

The value of co-operation in rural affairs is well illustrated in the experience of the Portage County Improvement association in the purchase of fertilizers. Early this year H. P. Miller, county agent, began an investigation of the fertilizer situation. He found that a 10 to 16 per cent acid goods is the kind generally used, and that $16 to $18 was the usual price paid per ton. By some correspondence with fertilizer manufacturers, Mr. Miller finally secured a satisfactory price, on a large quantity, with a contract calling for not fewer than 1000 tons. He obtained such a price that after paying the freight and allowing 50 cents per ton for handling at the place of distribution, the cost to the farmer was $12.30, or an average saving of $4 to $5 on every ton purchased. No great difficulty was experienced in securing enough orders for 1000 tons and by September 1, nearly 1900 tons had been ordered and delivered. By the above it is plainly seen that co-operation in buying one article alone has resulted in a total saving to Portage county farmers of about $8000 in a single year.

It would be comforting to think that other people took more interest in our affairs than we take in theirs. No fellow ever flies so high that he isn't occasionally under the weather.

UNDER PRICE GAS RANGES MEANS OVERHIGH GAS BILLS

The first cost of the gas range is a small matter comparatively; it is the cost of its operation the year around that is the most vital point for you to consider.

IT COSTS YOU ONE-FOURTH LESS TO OPERATE A NEW METHOD THAN ANY OTHER GAS RANGE. These figures were secured, as the result of a most competitive test with twenty makes of stoves. Supposing that the initial cost of some unknown stove was $2.00 or $3.00 less—(though as a matter of fact they are not) and your gas bill was $4.00 a month. With a New Method your gas bills would be 20 to 30 percent less, or $3.00; and your saving for one year would be $12.00.

Is this saving worth while, especially when you consider that the New Method is enameled throughout, even including the burners, which makes it the most sanitary range made. Split oven doors, movable simmering burners and lighters, and other features not to be found in any other stove. The price ranges from $18.75 to $70.00. Other ranges priced upward from

WHY?

MUCH SENTIMENT FOR BETTER ROADS
Movement in Congress Expected to Bring Results.
MAY TAKE DRASTIC ACTION.

Underwood Tells Why He Is Going to Seek Election as Senator—Lively Scramble for Leadership in House Expected to Follow His Retirement. Feels Fate of Ex-Leaders.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, Sept. 24. — [Special.]—Although tariff and currency are the only big questions which the present session of congress determined to consider, there has been going on a quiet campaign for good roads which may bring results in the next session. Chairman Shackelford of the roads committee has been endeavoring to line up the Democrats of the majority, and C. Bascom Sloop, the ranking Republican member, has been making the same sort of a canvass among the Republicans, the object being to secure a majority which will stand for a reasonable, effective and genuine road proposition when the subject is considered next session.

May Take Drastic Action.
Opposition to the good roads movement is based upon the fact that once the government starts upon that line there will be no end to the expenditure, and of course all the economy advocates are against roadmaking by the government. This may necessitate drastic action on the part of the road men if they have a sufficient majority to control the house. They can take charge of the house procedure. They can block everything else and compel action upon their good roads bill, just as has been done in the past when the leaders refused consideration of measures which a majority was determined to have passed.

Shackelford is willing to lead such a movement on behalf of the Democrats, and Sloop has signified his willingness to go the limit in behalf of roads. The Virginia congressman says that road improvement in his state will return tenfold the investment in a few years.

A "Military" Road.
A southern member recently introduced a bill for a "military" road from one post in his state to another. Of course we do not build "military" roads in this country any more. That was an industry belonging to a period before railroads reached all available points. It is generally understood that the "military" road of the southern member would actually have been for the benefit of his constituents. Probably troops would not pass over it once in a dozen years unless simply for practice marches.

Leaders Tire of Hard Work.
While the house of representatives is attractive to a great many men, others tire of the service after awhile. Many have a strong ambition for the senate, and, failing in that, they are willing to retire to private life if they have in prospect an income more than is paid to members of congress.

Even if Oscar W. Underwood is not elected to the senate he will no doubt retire from congress. "The only way a leader can demote himself," he told me, "is to get out. I cannot stand the heavy strain which the leadership of a party in this house entails. And so that is why I am going to retire."

Mr. Underwood has in mind the unpleasant fate of ex-leaders. He has known several in his time, both on the minority and majority side. The latest example is that of Uncle Joe Cannon, who sat for two years in the house, where he had been the dominating force, and saw another man handle his party. On the minority side, even, the demoted leader finds himself in an unpleasant position.

Underwood's Successor.
Of course there will be quite a scramble for the position of Democratic leader when Underwood goes out, particularly if the Democrats retain control of the house. If they are in the minority the leadership will fall naturally to Champ Clark. If Underwood should remain in the house and the Democrats were in the minority there would be a nice question to settle between himself and Champ, and it would have to be settled by a vote of the Democrats.

"Warriors" in the Senate.
"I make no pretense of speaking for the committee of which I am chairman," said Senator Owen of Oklahoma, referring to the banking and currency committee. "You see, all senators are 'warriors' or think they are, and they would resent having anybody speak for them."

The use of the word "warriors" betrayed Owen's Indian blood. The average "warrior" in the Indian tribes allowed no one to talk for him.

It Caused Laughter.
There was a measure before the house which involved the civil service, and Fitzgerald of New York had made a point of order. "I am a believer in the merit system," said Fitz, and the house broke forth in laughter, which was renewed at times because the members regarded that as a real joke. And Fitz repeated his assertion.

Sometimes it is also a good rule that won't work both ways.

FREE USE

Of United States Mails Asked for the Santa Claus of Poor Children by Girl of 17.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, Sept. 24.—Let the Santa Claus of poor children, those of the tenements, who are likely to be overlooked because they live so crowded together be given free use of the United States mails.

This was the plea made to President Woodrow Wilson by Miss Olive May Wilson of Jenkintown, Pa., who is here to see if some way cannot be found to waive postage on Christmas presents mailed to poor children. Filled with the enthusiasm of her cause, Miss Wilson, a young miss seventeen years of age, marched boldly into the presence of the head of the nation and made her plea.

The president encouraged the young advocate by telling her that he would consider the matter and let her hear from him. She left the White House smiling and happy.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Try This! Mix Sage Tea and Sulphur and Brush It Through Your Hair. Taking One Strand at a Time.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home, is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning, all gray hair disappears and, after another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger. Agents, Hall's Drug Store.

SLIDES DO NOT WORRY ENGINEERS ON PANAMA CANAL

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, Sept. 26.—When the big steam shovels were withdrawn from Culebra cut September 10, there remained six hundred thousand cubic yards of earth to be removed from the Panama canal prism, exclusive of slides that had fallen in inclines left to facilitate access to the bottom of the cut. The slides had been showing increased activity but were no longer regarded by the engineers as of moment because of the earth thus carried into the cut can be easily handled by the great dredges to be floated in when Gamboa dyke is removed. It is thirty-one years since the French engineers began to excavate this famous cut. Using machinery that was tiny in comparison with that of the Americans they removed the enormous amount of 17,000,000 yards of material from the cut.

The association of Panama Canal Builders has been formed on the isthmus to furnish its members with information of the construction of this great engineering work. Colonel Goethals has consented to sign the certificates of membership. A memorial volume will be compiled, containing the names of all the canal workers, photographs of features of interest and dates of history.

Lima Sunday-School Convention
Should Attract Enthusiasts From This County

Every Sunday-school worker in Ohio, who is at all interested in the movement, will find something absorbing during every hour of the three-day session of the Ohio Sunday-school convention which convenes in Lima, Tuesday morning, October 7.

Dr. Franklin McElfresh, of Chicago, is scheduled for some of the most interesting addresses. Tuesday evening he will speak on the Sunday-school throughout the world and on Wednesday evening he will discuss the relationship between the public school and the Sunday-school.

Temperance enthusiasts will be particularly interested in the address of Wednesday evening by Dr. Howard Russell, of Westerville, founder of the Anti-Saloon League of America. He will outline the history and accomplishments of that great organization. Mrs. Lillian Burr, of Columbus, who is directing the scientific temperance work of the league, will lecture on the same evening on "The Sunday-school and Heredity."

Mrs. Bryner Talks.
Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner, of Chicago, superintendent of elementary work in the International Association, will discuss the various problems of elementary work in a series of talks.

One of the particularly interesting features of this year's convention will be the musical program, which will be in charge of Prof. E. O. Exell, of Chicago, the internationally famous writer of hymns. He will be assisted by Prof. A. A. Roper, also known wherever hymns are sung.

The session will be presided over by W. A. Eudaly, of Middletown, president of the state association. General Secretary C. W. Shinn, of Columbus, and his staff of Sunday-school experts are on the program for several addresses along specialized lines.

Miss Edna Earl Cole, of Barnesville, a child study expert; Dr. E. W. Thornton, of Cincinnati, noted editor and author; Dr. W. G. Clippinger, president of Otterbein university; and Rev. B. M. McNutt, of New York City, who is conducting an extensive Sunday-school survey of Ohio, will be among the other Sunday-school specialists who will be on the program at this convention.

at Lima This Year
Attracts Attention

Fifty-five active and energetic boys in the teen age are expected to be on hand at the Ohio Sunday-school association meeting at Lima, October 7, 8 and 9. When a boys' congress will be held in conjunction with the other meetings, and when the wisdom of this movement, instigated a year ago, will be fully demonstrated. These boys are to come as delegates, two from each Sunday-school. One is to be an employed boy, and one a high school boy, and Sunday-school superintendents are strongly urged to select the boys who are natural leaders, and it is expected in every instance that the Sunday-school pay the few expenses incident to the trip to Lima.

The people of Lima will provide entertainment for all properly registered delegates to the boys' congress. The incidental expenses will be a registration fee of 25c, and 25c for the friend ship supper, in addition to whatever they may pay for their lunches on Tuesday. The entertainment committee will provide three lodging and breakfast for all of the 500 boys.

Boys Must Register.

All boys to be eligible must first be registered with the state office at Columbus, from which credentials will be sent. Names and addresses should be forwarded to M. G. Baily, 219 Columbus Savings Bank & Trust building, Columbus, O.

The boys' congress meets on Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Congregational church at Lima, where the program defines the purpose of the meeting as getting acquainted and finding those who. This will be followed by a friendship supper, and the friendship supper will be followed by a genuine camp fire. This will be held in the open under the trees, with plenty of large burning logs to make it interesting. Tuesday will be occupied with the consideration of various papers.

Among the topics to be considered are:

- Should Different Boys Organizations in the Sunday-school Work Together?
 - Cooperative Spirit in Organization With the Boy and Sunday-school.
 - What Kind of a Leader Does a Boy Respect?
 - Why Should a High School Boy Study the Bible?
 - The Employed Boys Environment.
 - The Dual Responsibility of the Country Boy.

 - Social Life and What It Does.
